BRITAIN ACUTELY ANXIOUS ABOUT THE INTERNATIONAL SITUATION

620,000 MORE JOBS IN U.S. LAST MONTH

Weekly Pay-Roll Gain
Of $10,000,000.

INVESTORS FEAR TO LOAN
CAPITAL

Washington, To-day.
The United States Secretary for Labour, Miss Frances Perkins yesterday announced that over 620,000 persons were re-employed in the United States during September. The pay-roll gain is $10,000,000 per week.

The "Wall Street Journal" states that the National Recovery Administration cannot solve the unemployment problem until it has the support of private capital, which is reluctant, firstly, for fear of inflation, and secondly, for fear that a reasonable investment return will be difficult to earn on account that the profits may be restricted to the narrowest limits.

Progress would be greatly facilitated if both fears were removed, the journal adds. Mr. Walzer states that the outlook is more optimistic and that many traders believe that the most important liquidation will soon be exhausted.—United Press, per S. C. Gold Bar Co.

FEWER UNEMPLOYED

Washington, To-day.
More than 620,000 people were re-employed in the United States during September, according to statistics of 17 of the leading industrial and business concerns.—Reuter.

BRIGHTER TONE ON WALL STREET.

Stocks Recover After Monday's Slump.

New York, To-day.
A brighter tone prevailed on the New York Stock Market yesterday, some recovery being made after the sharp decline on Monday.

Industrial advanced 2.18 to 92.67, while rails and utilities improved .93 and .63 to 38.77 and 25.39 respectively. Bonds declined .03 to 84.58. Silver opened up on higher cable advices and later advanced sharply in sympathy with other markets. Bank buying persisted throughout the session.

Business was brisk, 2,480,000 shares being traded.

RECOVERY CODE OFFENCES.

Stiff Penalties Ordered
By Roosevelt.

Washington, To-day.
President Roosevelt has signed an order providing a fine of U.S.$500 or six months' imprisonment to anyone falsely operating under the Blanket Code or falsely displaying the "Blue Eagle" indicating membership in the United States Recovery campaign.—Reuter.

Compensation For Farm Acreage Reduction.

Washington, To-day.
The control programme for the corn and pig production in the United States, issued by the Secretary for Agriculture, Mr. Henry C. Wallace, is reported to include processing taxes to compensate farmers who reduce their corn acreage by at least 28 per cent, and their farrows and pigs by 25 per cent.—Reuter.

GERMANY WELCOMES U.S. ISOLATION

HITLER DECLARES FOR PEACE

To Observe Treaty And League Covenant.

FAVOURABLY IMPRESS U.S.
AMBASSADOR

Berlin, To-day.

German political quarters' attention is centred on the importance of the statement made by the American delegation at Geneva that they are not interested in the political or purely European aspects of Disarmament and that the United States is in no way politically allied to any European Power.

The latter declaration is interpreted as a most significant hint which is warmly welcomed by Germany.

Herr Hitler's intentions have favourably impressed the American Ambassador, Mr. Dodd, who had a fifty-minute interview with the Chancellor yesterday.

At the conclusion of the interview, Mr. Dodd said the Chancellor was honestly perturbed over the Nazi assaults on foreigners and was determined to end them. Hitler also emphasized his desire for peace and his aversion to war, and seemed anxious to resume or continue Germany's contact with the rest of the world.

A semi-official statement emphasizes that Germany's intentions are to observe the provisions of the Versailles Peace Treaty and the League Covenant.

At the same time a denial was issued of the report that Germany had sent a Note to Mussolini, suggesting the reopening of the disarmament negotiations.—Reuter.

ROME DENIES REPORT OF NEW NEGOTIATIONS

Enquiries in official quarters have elicited an emphatic denial to the report that Germany has notified her readiness to continue Disarmament discussions outside the League of Nations.—Reuter.

CIVIL LORD'S VISIT TO HONG KONG

Capt. Euan Wallace
Arrives.

INSPECTION OF NAVAL ESTABLISHMENTS

Captain D. Euan Wallace, Civil Lord of the Admiralty, arrived in Hong Kong this afternoon by the P. and O. liner Comorin, and was met at the wharf by the Commodore, Captain Frank Elliott, R.N., O.B.E., and Captain R. F. Walter, R.A., Aide-de-Camp, representing His Excellency, the Governor, Sir William Peel, K.C.M.G., K.B.E. Captain Wallace will stay at Government House during his stay in the Colony and will be entertained by His Excellency the Governor at a banquet to-morrow night at Government House.

To-night the distinguished visitor will be the guest of Commodore Frank Elliott at a banquet on board H.M.S. Tamar.

Captain Wallace is visiting the Naval establishments in the East and was recently at Singapore.

BRITAIN'S POLICY ON DISARMAMENT

SIR JOHN SIMON REBUTS GERMAN ACCUSATION

"NERVOUSNESS CONCERNING NAZIS IS NOW POSITIVE ALARM"

LONDON, TO-DAY.

BRITAIN STILL STANDS BY THE DECLARATION OF LAST DECEMBER THAT GERMANY OUGHT TO RECEIVE EQUALITY OF RIGHTS IN REGIME AND SECURITY, DECLARED THE FOREIGN SECRETARY, SIR JOHN SIMON IN A BROADCAST ADDRESS LAST NIGHT. A SERIOUS FACT HAD, HOWEVER, EMERGED, WHICH, WHILE NOT ALTERING BRITAIN'S PLEDGE, MUST NECESSARILY AFFECT THE DETAILED MANNER OF ITS FULFILMENT.

Recent events had increased the nervousness to a sense of positive alarm, which was the real reason why the heavily-armed States hesitate to weaken their armed forces, he said.

"We know the reasons for that anxiety," emphasized Sir John Simon. "There is more anxiety in England about the international situation than for many years past, while on the Continent it is more acute still."

Sir John Simon detailed the steps taken at Geneva to meet Germany's demands, and said that they were getting a closer approach to a basis of agreement last week, when he asked Germany exactly what he meant by "sample" weapons. But instead of defining "samples," Germany's reply claimed substantial re-armament from the very beginning.

He rebutted the accusation made by the German Foreign Minister, Baron von Neurath, mis-stating the facts. He was perfectly ready to publish the documents and records. Germany's attitude at the last moment had jeopardised, if not wrecked, the hard work they had all put into the conversations with goodwill.

He was totally unable to accept the reasons Germany gave for withdrawal. Sir John Simon reiterated Mr. Stanley Baldwin's dictum that the nation that made Disarmament impossible would not have a friend in the world.

Britain did not intend to arouse resentful feelings. She would try to promote co-operation with all nations of goodwill and leave nothing undone to seek a honourable solution to the great cause on which the hopes of mankind for the future race of the world were so largely founded, Sir John concluded.—Reuter.

SIR JOHN SIMON RETURNS.

"Germany's Views Misrepresented."

CONVINCING DENIAL BY FOREIGN SECRETARY.

London, To-day.

Sir John Simon and Captain Anthony Eden reached London by air from Paris yesterday on their return from Geneva.

When he reached the Foreign Office Sir John Simon's attention was called to the report of a statement made the previous night by Baron Von Neurath, suggesting that the British Foreign Secretary had not accurately represented Germany's view point, as conveyed to him on October 6.

Sir John stated: "I should indeed be sorry if there were any difference on a matter of fact with Baron Von Neurath. My fellow countrymen may rest assured that the suggested inaccuracy is not on my side."

It was on October 6 that the German Charge d'Affaires in London communicated to Sir John Germany's "Observations" on the Disarmament situation. A similar communication was made at the same time in Rome, but not to the French or United States Governments, whose representatives had taken part in the earlier conversations.

These "Observations" seriously affected the situation and, immediately after hearing them, the British Foreign Secretary communicated them to the French and Italian Ambassadors in London.

Shortly after reaching London the Foreign Secretary had a long conversation with the Prime Minister, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, and Mr. Baldwin. Sir John Simon last night broadcasted a statement upon the recent developments in the disarmament situation.—British Wireless Service.

LONDON MARKETS IMPROVE.

A Slightly Better Tendency.

London, To-day.

London Stock Markets left off with a slightly better tendency yesterday. War Loan, 8½ per cent, closing at 101 1/16.

German 5½ per cent. bonds closed at 48 and 7 per cent. bonds at 75½, of last year, while the number of day night and reached Karachi in 7 days, 4 hours, 44 minutes, recently established by his former colleague, Air Commodore Sir Charles Klandford Smith, arrived here yesterday evening, from Akyab, Burma, and has taken off for Seura-baya.

Miss Suzanne Lenglen, the famous French tennis player, gives tennis lessons at Selfridge's Stores, Oxford Street, London. Lenglen demonstrating a stroke to some young enthusiasts. She is seen wearing unusual tennis attire which consists of a frock with which knickers are combined thus giving freedom of movement when the skirt of the frock, which is buttoned in front, is unfastened. BRITISH WARSHIPS LENT TO AUSTRALIA

Destroyers Due To Arrive At
Sydney On Dec. 21

London, To-day.

The British destroyers, H.M.S. Vampire and H.M.S. Voyager left Portsmouth yesterday to join the Flotilla Leader, H.M.S. Stuart, and the destroyers, H.M.S. Vendetta and H.M.S. Waterhog, from Chatham and Devonport. The whole Flotilla will then sail for Sydney, where they are due on December 21, all the vessels having been lent by the British Navy to the Australian Navy.—British Wireless Service.

LABOURITES GAIN 22 SEATS IN NORWAY

Unemployment Relief Programme.

REBUFF TO NEW FASCIST
ORGANISATION

Oslo, To-day.

A decided swing to Labour was a feature of the Norwegian elections held yesterday.

The Labour Party have so far gained 22 seats, doubtless owing to Labour's extensive programme of unemployment relief.

The Conservatives, who have lost 10 seats, proposed to lighten taxation and have refused an alliance with the new Fascist organisation, the National Union, headed by Major Quisling, an ex-Cabinet minister, who is regarded as Norway's "Strong Man."

The present position in the election is:—
Labour, 69 seats
Conservatives, 31 seats
Liberal, 24 seats
Agrarians, 22 seats
Other Parties, 4 seats

TYNESIDE SHOWS IMPROVEMENT.

More Coal Exported;
Fewer Ships Idle.

London, To-day.

Conditions on the Tyne, where the unemployment situation was most acute, are continuing to show improvement. Up to date 70,000 tons more coal have been shipped from that area than in the corresponding period of last year, while the number of day night and reached Karachi in 7 days, 4 hours, 44 minutes, recently established by his former colleague, Air Commodore Sir Charles Klandford Smith, arrived here yesterday evening, from Akyab, Burma, and has taken off for Seura-baya.

HELEN WILLS TO PLAY LAWN TENNIS AGAIN

Famous Star Now Able To Walk.

REJECTS MOVIE OFFER

San Francisco, To-day.

In spite of the pessimistic statement made by her father less than a fortnight ago Helen Wills Moody, the world's greatest lady lawn tennis player, has announced that she will return to competitive tennis next year.

Undisputed champion of the world since 1927 Helen Wills met with her first reverse at Forest Hills in the U.S. National Championship Final this year when, led 3-0 in the final set by Helen Jacobs, she defaulted on account of a leg injury. Owing to back strain she was unable to compete in the Wightman Cup series against the British team.

Since her breakdown she has been in a nursing home in this city.

Mrs. Moody in a statement to Reuter said, "I will play tennis again and I will play in tournaments which I will try to win. It is good to be able to walk again, even if I can only go a few blocks at a time. The farthest I have gone so far is six blocks."

"I suppose it will be a long time before I get back into championship form, but I am going to play next year."

"First I shall take up swimming as it is the only exercise I can have now, because it keeps me off my feet I get so tired standing."

Mrs. Moody said that she had not received offers to turn professional, but had rejected a movie offer "because I am content to live as I do now."—Reuter.

ULM TAKES OFF FOR D.E.I.

Akyab-Alor Star Hop
In Fast Time.

Afor Star, F. M. S., To-day.

Mr. C. T. P. Ulm, the Australian airman, who is attempting to beat the England-Australia air record of 7 days, 4 hours, 44 minutes, recently established by his former colleague, Air Commodore Sir Charles Klandford Smith, arrived here yesterday evening, from Akyab, Burma, and has taken off for Seura-baya.

Mr. Ulm left London on Thursday night and reached Karachi in 2 days, 14 hours, 14 minutes, and was then slightly ahead of Kingsford Smith's time.—Reuter.

HUGE SALARIES RECEIVED BY U.S. BANKERS

$100,000 Bonuses Despite Bank Losses.

DIRECTOR OF 59 FIRMS

Washington, To-day.
Large payments made to Mr. Albert Wiggin, Chairman of the Chase National Bank have been revealed by the Senate Banking Investigation Committee, which is dealing with the Chase Bank and the Chinese Securities Corporation.

It was stated that Mr. Wiggin received bonuses exceeding U.S.$100,000 annually besides a salary of U.S.$200,000 and a pension of U.S.$100,000 after retirement, despite the Bank's severe losses in recent years.

During the past years Mr. Wiggin has been a director of 59 other big concerns, drawing annual payments ranging from U.S. $500 to U.S. $30,000.—Reuter.

$400,000,000 OWED BY GERMANY

Mr. Wiggin testified that Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Junior, was the biggest shareholder in the Chase Bank.

He said that the German debt to all American banks in 1933, totaled between U.S. $400,000,000 and U.S. $500,000,000. The Chase Bank's share of that amount was originally U.S.$100,000,000, but Mr. Wiggin got the amount down to below U.S. $40,000,000.

He acknowledged that the Chase Bank had made "very large losses" and accepted the responsibility for them as "Commander-in-Chief."—Reuter.

SOVIET ALLEGES FRONTIER
INFRINGEMENT

Harbin, To-day.

The arrival of the Manchukuo gunboat, Linnia, with three alleged O. G. P. U. spies on board, of whom one was a Soviet soldier in uniform, has been greeted by a fresh exchange of protests between the Russian and Manchukuo diplomatic representatives here.

The Soviet Consul-General, M. Slavutsky, contends that the men were arrested in Soviet territory and demands their release.

Manchukuo insists they were arrested in Manchukuo territory in the vicinity of Tabeiho, and protests against the infringements of the frontier zone, "of which the latest incident affords further conclusive proof."—Reuter.

Beauty Sleep Is Important

Eight Hours Commonly Accepted As Rule.

POPULAR GIRLS PROBLEM

It's a well-established fact that the most beautiful girls take the most liberties with their beauty. We often find a less lovely girl or woman acquiring more charm and beauty as she grows older, but the more beautiful girl often loses her freshness and charm.

Why? Because the beautiful girl is more popular than the homely one during those early years when girls first begin to go to theatres and dances. And because of her youth and vitality and health, the elements that make for her beauty. She can stand the strain for some time without marring her appearance. Consequently, when she fails to see signs of disaster from her neglect of health rules, she believes she is the exception and so continues on her merry way. The crash comes suddenly and when a long rest is necessary.

The less attractive girl, however, has had her sleep because she hasn't been invited out so much. She has filled in many lonely hours in long walks. She has studied herself with a view to improving her posture, her complexion, her manner, and suddenly everyone notices that she is a truly lovely girl. Far be it from me to make "stay-at-homes" out of any of you. There is too much laughter and fun and pleasure in mingling with congenial companions, but how many times have you lingered at the dance until your feet ached, your nose was shiny beyond redemption, shadows smeared your eyes, and your spontaneous smile became a stiff, artificial, mechanical reaction to a spirit that was too tired to enjoy itself further?

Eight hours' sleep is the commonly accepted rule. However, many women who have better health and are more refreshed after seven hours' sleep than they are after eight or nine.

If you wake up tired and unprepared for the day's activities, add half an hour to your sleeping time. If after a few days the condition persists, add still another half-hour.

OLD SILHOUTTE
MAY RETURN.

Forecast For Winter.

The old-fashioned tubular silhouette is said to be on its way for winter. The line is unbroken from high waist to hem, where a trimming of some sort appears; either frills, insets, or the new vertical tucks. Skirts, high and 51nc. broad.

MODERATION IN USE OF PERFUME

Simple Rule To Avoid Common Mistake.

Remember the olden rule—never overdo your perfume. There is more in this than you probably think. It is the easiest thing in the world to overdo your perfume. That is why you find so many men who dislike perfume, and so many women who dispense with it altogether for fear of detracting rather than adding to their charm.

The reason of this is quite clear. When you first use your perfume your senses are very conscious of it. But after a time you become accustomed to it and gradually you use a little more each time, until you are probably using about twice as much as you used originally.

Be careful to remember exactly how much you used when you first began using it. If you do this you can never be accused of overdoing it. It should be like your whole personality—not an atmosphere that your companion feels he will never be able to get away from, but rather an elusive fragrance that he is always afraid of losing.

The selection of costumes rich bring out one's personality cannot be stressed too much. It is quite possible with the dress industry turning out many designs to build up a wardrobe of ready-to-wear clothes which appear as if it was planned for the individual woman. But it takes a woman with style sense and one who knows herself to select only those costumes which enhance her personality.

Menu Suggestions For To-morrow

TIFFIN

Clam Fricassee on Toast
Hashed Lamb with Broiled Tomatoes
Fried Cucumbers
Rice Pudding with Stewed Pears

DINNER

Jardiniere Soup
Lobster Chowder
Broiled Saddle of Lamb
Mint Sauce
Fried Eggs Plant
Stewed Bamboo Shoots
Coffee Souffle
Clam Fricassee on Toast

Melt 2 tablespoons butter in sauce-pan, add 2 tablespoons flour, stir until smooth, then add gradually 1 cup clam broth while stirring constantly. When sauce begins to boil add 1 dozen chopped clams and 1/4 cup hot cream. When clams are heated through, remove from stove, add the yolks of 2 well beaten eggs and 2 tablespoons sherry. Serve on hot toast.

Hashed Lamb with Broiled Tomatoes

Trim off fat, grate and over-brown portions from cold roast lamb, there should be 2 cups. Chop 1 medium sized onion, cook in 2 tablespoons butter until slightly coloured and soft stirring constantly. Add 1 cup chopped dried mushrooms, cook 5 minutes, season with salt and pepper, add 1/4 cup flour, stir until well blended, then add 1/2 cup thick tomato puree, 1 cup highly seasoned stock. Heat to boiling point, add lamb, stir until well mixed and heated through. Serve in centre of warm plate, surround with halves of broiled tomatoes.

Jardiniere Soup

Trim some turnips and carrots into the shape of peas. Cook until tender in a little stock. Cook also some green peas, asparagus, beans, the white part of a cauliflower cut into sprigs, the white leaves of a cabbage stamped into rounds with a cutter the size of small circles and some chopped parsley. These must all be cooked with care. To two quarts of soup allow half a pint of these vegetables, measured together.

Coffee Souffle

1 oz. butter, 1 oz. flour, 1/2 gill milk, 1/2 gill strong coffee 5 eggs, 1 oz. sugar. Melt the butter and mix in the flour smoothly. Add the milk, coffee, and sugar, stir and cook well. Then add, off the stove, the yolks of 4 eggs. Beat the whites of the 5 eggs to a firm froth and stir them tightly in. Pour the mixture into a prepared souffle tin, and bake in a quick oven until well thrown up and firm in the centre.

BABY'S SAFEGUARD.

When he is a little older he will ask for what he wants; now he can only grab—and with the instinct of a puppy he grabs for something which he knows is good, Baby's Own Tablets, the children's favourite medicine, so pleasant to take, so easy to give, with no unpleasant after effects.

If baby is peevish, restless, and generally out of sorts, it may mean that he is suffering from worms, those parasites which cause him to lose weight and strength. When you have reason to suspect the presence of worms give the child Baby's Own Tablets, and almost surely you will be pleasantly surprised at the prompt improvement which will follow.

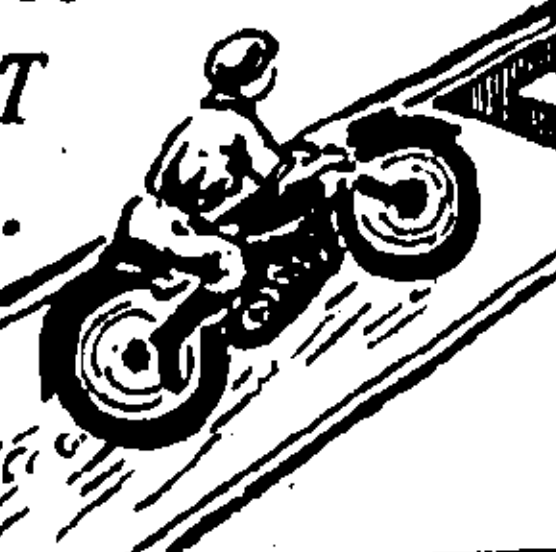

Their efficacy also for the relief of indigestion, constipation, "wind," colds, and feverishness, has made them invaluable to parents. Baby's Own Tablets are the prescription of a doctor who specialised in children's ailments, and are guaranteed to contain nothing which can be in any way injurious. Their mild laxative action assists nature to dispel any accumulation of waste matter in the food tract, thereby eliminating the cause of many children's ailments.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS

obtainable at all chemists.

(By ELY CULBERTSON)
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

MASTERS OF BRIDGE

The adoption of a new international code of Bridge bodies in the United States, England and France, probably marks a new era of international competition in this splendid intellectual game. Certainly, with people of all races and tongues using the same code of laws there will be a more general understanding of the principles underlying the game and a more general acceptance of the most advanced thought along the lines of bidding and play.

The Scandinavian peninsula, while it has taken no part in the adjustment of a new code of laws, has long been known as a great centre of Contract Bridge. One of the greatest players in Stockholm, the capital of Sweden, is Mr. Ivar Andersson. A brilliant example of his play is given on the hand below:

North—Dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

Mr. Anderson The Bidding:
South West North East
2S Pass 3H Pass
4NT Pass 6S Pass
7S Pass Pass Pass

To say the least, the bidding was audacious. As North's shortage in spades suggested the possibility of a loser in the trump suit, the jump from South's bid of four no trump to six spades was over-enthusiastic. Perhaps Mr. Anderson should have taken his four-card length into consideration before bidding the Grand Slam. However, the way in which he made it was most interesting.

The Opening lead was a heart, which was won with the Ace in Dummy, and the Knave of clubs led and overtaken with the Queen. A heart was then led and trumped, and the closed hand re-entered by leading the 9 of clubs and winning the trick with the Ten. Another heart was trumped in Dummy, and the last led, followed by the drawing of all the trumps. Dummy was then placed in the lead with a club, and East found it impossible to further defend the heart Queen, as East knew, so he was forced to blank the King of diamonds on the last club lead, whereupon Mr. Anderson discarded the Queen of hearts and took Tricks 12 and 13 with the Ace and Queen of diamonds.

The bidding was very strong, but, really, if they play this well in Stockholm, I can see that they are going to profit greatly by the increased bonus provided in the international code for the bidding and making of Grand Slams.

ADDITIONAL NAVAL DANCE.

Carnival Ball On H.M.S. Tamar.

In addition to the Naval Ball at the Peninsula Hotel on Saturday night, a Carnival Dance will be held on H.M.S. Tamar, in the Naval Dockyard Basin, from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m.
Dances on board His Majesty's ships have previously been very successful, and this Carnival Dance is expected to prove an equal success.

With the Naval Basin for a background, the beflagged and decorated Tamar will present a very colourful picture.

Tickets for the dance, at $1.50 each, may be obtained from the Dance Secretary, H.M.S. Tamar. Ladies are requested to apply to the Secretary for courtesy tickets.

Special Announcement

Many listeners have recently acquired a habit of telephoning to the Studio during the programme requesting the replaying of an item or the playing of some special additional item. These requests are now so numerous as to interfere seriously with the Announcers' duties and the Broadcasting Committee have been compelled therefore to instruct the Announcers that requests by telephone are not in future to be complied with. It has been decided to give a trial to a "Request Programme" on Fridays of each week, commencing in November. Listeners who wish any special item to be included in these programmes are requested to forward the names of the items, with if possible the number or type of record, to the Secretary, Broadcasting Studio, before 5 p.m. on Wednesdays.

"PERFECT YOUTH" WANTED

Tasmanian Clergyman's Request.

"NOT PROCURABLE IN N.S.W."

Sydney.

The Rev. George Richmond, rector of St. Mark's Church of England, Granville, who conducts a private employment agency in his efforts to secure work for boys and girls in his parish, has received from a clergyman in Tasmania a letter asking for a young man to help him in his church work. The Tasmanian clergyman's letter sets out the following qualifications necessary for the post:—

"Young orphan preferred, non-smoker, and non-drinker, good Christian; character beyond question; very affectionate; must not chase girls, read novels or be talkative; intelligent, smart in action and ability."

The successful applicant will be given a home with the clergyman and a small wage with pocket money. He will not be paid his wages every week, but they will be put aside for him until later when he may require them.

Rev. Mr. Richmond has replied stating that he is convinced that there are no local lads who could attain to such standard required. He is convinced that there are no local lads who could attain to such standard required. He is convinced also that boys of that kind are unprocurable in New South Wales, and has advised the clergyman to try Victoria.—Reuter.

WONDERS OF MODERN WIRELESS

£3,000,000 British Exhibition.

THOUSANDS OF OVERSEAS VISITORS

London.
Nine miles of stalls packed with 17,000,000 worth of 1933's wireless marvels that was the great Radio Exhibition which stayed open for a week at Olympia.

Every mile was a milestone in the history of British radio progress. Twelve years ago there was no British wireless industry; to-day it is capitalised at about £110,000,000.

Three hundred exhibitors showed 5,000 receivers ranging in price from £3 to £500. At last year's "Radiolympia" £20,000,000 worth of orders were booked. This year the figure is expected to be £25,000,000.

It is estimated that 250,000 people visited the exhibition, including thousands of visitors from overseas. For their benefit there were seven interpreters on hand, speaking 12 languages, from Hindustani to Esperanto.

A tower of babel, a temple of mechanical art, was how "Radiolympia" impressed the visitor.

Overseas visitors ordered thousands of pounds worth of wireless sets. One firm made a special feature of an ultrashort wave set designed not only to pick up European programmes from abroad, but also for people in this country to hear America, Australia, Java and East Africa.

A novelty at the exhibition was a large theatre built by the British Broadcasting Corporation in which two performers were given daily by famous radio stars. A joke cracked by one was why so much wire had to be used in wireless.

Putting the Wire in Wireless.

Looking through the stands one was inclined to agree with him. Olympia was honey-combed with wire, millions of yards of it twisted into the most intricate patterns.

Two salient features were at once evident. Radio is about twenty-five per cent cheaper than last year, and battery models are staging a "come-back."

Actually about 70 per cent of the receivers were run by batteries, a surprising thing in this era of electricity. But radio technicians have spent the year perfecting battery models so that people living in the country without electricity can enjoy the same selectivity and clarity as those using electric power.

There were also many radio-gramophone sets worked from batteries.

Another feature of the exhibition was the boom in superheterodyne radio sets designed to give the listener higher selectivity.

Nowadays the listener does not fiddle knobs aimlessly and wonder what programme he is hearing—up to the latest sets an electric "line" indicates Brussels, Turin, Paris, Rome or Moscow, or whatever station it is.

Post Office Campaign.

The Post Office staged a big demonstration hall where lectures were given all part of a campaign to win 6,000,000 wireless licences in this country.

The Post Office also exhibited a large short-wave radio transmitter similar to those used at Rugby to transmit to the Dominions.

The advance of television was also demonstrated. A new form of cathode ray television aroused much interest. Television sets are priced at 50 guineas.

One of the most fascinating exhibits of all was a peep into the future by the Marchese Marconi.

WOMAN A DIVINE BEING

Moroccan Philosopher's Assertion.

SHERIF BEN ZIDAH IN PARIS

Paris.
The Sherif Ben Zidah, cousin of the Sultan of Morocco, famous throughout Morocco for his tender verses, is at present charming Parisians with gems of his philosophy.

"Woman," he asserted to an interviewer, "is the divine being. She gives us all our strength and our pleasure in life. Love of her impels us to work or fight. To please her we beautify ourselves—and try to become more perfect."

The "second great inspiration," according to this poet-philosopher from the desert, "is friendship."

But he has uttered a warning about choosing one's friends. "If your friend is a charcoal burner," he declares, "you will leave his house black from head to foot. But if he be a perfumer, then will your body, as you leave, be rendered fragrant by his scents."—Reuter.

PRISONER TAKES POISON.

Death In Gaol Hospital Last Night.

While in the reception room at Victoria Gaol yesterday morning, Yam Wai, 22, a prisoner sentenced to six months' hard labour, is alleged to have taken a dose of poison.

He was removed to hospital immediately, where he died last night. An inquest is being held this afternoon.

himself. It was a huge receiving set as it might look in 1960. Then the listener may merely have to speak and, by the tones in his voice, automatically get whatever station he wants.

There is a large coloured map in front of him which lights up at whatever station he gets. Below the map is a chart showing the exact time in every city in the world, enabling him to tune in at the right time to various overseas programmes.

Of course his part was not functioning but the set is actually equipped with television and a telephone by which the operator can call up any city in the world.

Queen Anne Table That Sang.

There were many novel sets, one being a radio-gramophone built like a baby grand piano. To meet the demand of women, thousands of whom visited the exhibition, manufacturers have paid great attention to colour schemes and attractive design.

Many sets have an electric clock where the loud speaker usually is and, what is more, the clock is guaranteed never to go wrong.

"Concealed" sets abounded. One was a lovely Queen Anne table when suddenly it burst into song! Other novelties were:—

A grandmother clock with time-piece, radio, cocktail cabinet and chimes.

A receiver with a special switch by which talk in the room can be picked up and amplified for deaf people.

A machine by which a doctor can "take a pulse" miles away by radio.

A £2,000 bar of gold and 40 lb. of silver, representing the amount of gold and silver alloy used in a year by a firm manufacturing switch contacts.—Reuter.

MOSCOW'S NEW "TEN YEAR PLAN"

Population Increases To 3,000,000.

RE-BUILDING 2,234 STREETS

Moscow.
Moscow is to be rebuilt. A gigantic reconstruction scheme for 2,234 streets and 43 squares is planned for the next decade.

For hundreds of years Moscow was built without any definite plan or system. Its narrow winding streets, irregularly shaped "squares," honeycombed side streets and blind alleys, with their decrepit houses, are an impediment to the erection of new buildings.

The population of the Soviet capital is increasing by leaps and bounds. It was 1,027,336 in 1920. Now it has risen to more than 3,000,000 people.

The building plan for dwelling houses in 1933 is estimated at 175,000,000 roubles (about £17,500,000).

Prominent Soviet and foreign experts have been engaged to re-plan Moscow.

Projects for the next 10 years include: extensive repairs to old buildings; more gardens and Parks; subways at all busy street crossings; six new railway stations; skyscrapers.

The construction of the new Lenin Avenue was begun last year. Two new large hotels are nearly ready for occupation. A palatial building for the Society of Ex-political Prisoners and Exiles will be finished this year. New Government and public buildings will form impressive blocks of architecture.

An Academy of Municipal Economy has been formed where scientific research work will be done and new staffs trained in "economy."—Reuter.

MARSHAL LYAUTEY'S GIFT

£1,176 Prize For A Tiny Village.

OS'IS AWARD TRANSFERRED

Paris.
Marshal Lyautey has made a charitable gesture to his beloved native Lorraine. He has made over the Osiris Prize valued at 100,000 francs (about £1,176) recently awarded him, to the village of Tournay, where he has his country residence.

The prize, which is awarded only every three years, goes to recompense Frenchmen who, by their outstanding contributions to their country and civilisation, have deserved some special recognition.

Marshal Lyautey's work as a coloniser and administrator is well-known.

It had been the Marshal's intention to spend the evening of his life at Greve, his mother's home, where he was born. But Greve was destroyed during the war, so that when he returned to France from Morocco he settled at Thoury near by, a tiny village of 167 people which also had its memories. It was where his aunt lived and where he sometimes stayed.—Reuter.

JEWISH ORANGES FOR GERMANY.

Must Be Shipped On German Boats.

AGREEMENT WITH PALESTINE.

Berlin.
A trade agreement whereby Palestine will export oranges to Germany to the extent of about £500,000 annually, and import double that amount of German manufactured articles, has been concluded according to the Jewish Telegraphic Agency.

The agreement stipulates that both the oranges and manufactured articles shall be carried exclusively on German vessels.

The articles of the agreement are so far provisional. A German commission has been appointed by the government to make the final draft of the agreement and to put it into operation.

The German government, it is estimated, will derive about £50,000 a year from this export trade in Customs duties alone.—Reuter.

SQUALOR AMIDST GLORY

Salvation Army's Appeal For Funds.

FOR RELIEF IN STRANGE PLACES

Bombay.
"Why is it we find in a spot where Nature has lavished her most glorious gifts, that abject misery and terrible suffering confront us?" is the question to which the Salvation Army authorities cannot find an adequate answer.

In an appeal for funds to carry on their mission of alleviating human suffering, they refer to one of their territories in the Malay Archipelago where 1,000 lepers, of whom 29 are Europeans and some are children, are being lovingly cared for in four leper colonies in Java and Sumatra.

Appalling eye diseases are being dealt with at the William Booth Memorial Eye Hospital, Semarang. Through the open doors of the Beggar colony at Boegangan totter imbecile mothers with babies in their arms; men and women prostrated by disease and neglected, aged and decrepit; these are welcomed, cleaned, clothed and fed and told, simply as to children, that God loves them. Many of them are being transferred to be educated and trained in the ideal surroundings of a Salvation Army Land Colony.—Reuter.

BOY ROUSES RIOT SQUAD.

Curiosity That Scared Bank Staff.

New York.

A small boy accompanied his father to a bank just before closing time.

"You wait here until I make a deposit," said his father at the door. "I'll be right back."

There was a rush of business at that hour and the boy became impatient, so he wandered through the bank and wound up at the manager's desk. On it was a row of buttons which looked as if they needed pressing. So he pressed them, vigorously, one at a time.

The stenographer came up with her writing pad; the cashier brought his day's tabulations; the doorman grabbed for his gun, and within a few minutes several police radio cars arrived bearing a dozen armed men. The small boy became frightened and ran out through the front door. The bank declined to reveal the boy's identity.—Reuter.

POSTMAN'S DOG'S VAIN WAIT.

Refuses To Accompany New Carrier.

Northampton, Massachusetts.

A German shepherd dog, ownership unknown, waited vainly for James S. Lyons, veteran mail carrier, to start out on his route. Lyons made two daily trips with mail through a section of Northampton.

Several years ago, the dog joined him, trotting beside the mail carrier twice a day over the long route.

Lyons was retired on reaching the age limit and he "explained" to the dog that their daily walks were ended. But the trips were the biggest event in the dog's life and he could not understand, and refused to go out with a new carrier.

The dog now sits on the post-office steps each day—waiting.—Reuter.

British Socialists And Banking.

Once more the industrious British Socialist headquarters have issued a long, pontifical declaration in view of the annual conference at Hastings to show that official brains have not been idle. They assume, of course, that the National Government has failed. Failed in what? It has righted the ship which the last Socialist Government brought to the point of foundering. It has protected home manufacturers and their employees from the ruin which threatened them. It has carried Britain through the long depression better than any other Government elsewhere, and it is making strenuous and successful endeavours to reorganise agriculture and other important industries. If there had been no National Government there would, and could, have been no recovery for the reputation of the late Socialist Government had sunk below zero—where it still remains. "Neither protective tariffs nor free trade," the Socialists say, "under capitalist conditions, is an adequate basis for international trade, which must, as in the case of home trade, be the subject of planning in the social interest." This does not even approach an intelligible meaning, nor, perhaps, is it intended that it should. It is just a hollow re-iteration from an empty and echoing drum. Nor is real precision reached even when the pamphlet seems to come down to detail, as in the sections dealing with "Banking, Finance and Investment," which contain the latest ideas—though they change every few weeks—of the party for dealing with the banks. Not so long ago the Socialist programme was to seize control of the Bank of England and leave the "Big Five" alone. Now the proposal is simultaneously to attack the "Big Five" and amalgamate them into a single Banking Corporation under public ownership and control. It is a pretty specimen of financial architecture—so far as the facade goes. A Socialist Government will "indicate"—a delicate word—the general lines of banking policy, and will "require" the Banking Corporation to co-operate with the socialised Bank of England and the National Investment Board in giving effect to it in conformity with the National Plan of Development. Since Creation Week there has been nothing like it. Ostentatious parade is made of the "defects" of the present system. Most are purely imaginary. Others, to unprejudiced eyes, are virtues.

Not So Aloof.

There is no reason to question the sincerity of the final words of the message which President Roosevelt sent to Prime Minister MacDonald as the World Economic Conference adjourned. He said: "You can count on our continued efforts toward world rehabilitation." Europeans may be excused if they now regard such assurances from Washington with a degree of skepticism. They have heard such friendly offers from other Presidents of the United States—from Mr. Coolidge and from Mr. Hoover. But somehow, they cynically remark, these American promises never seem to lead to performance. Yet they should pause to consider that it may be different in the present instance. It is not necessary to go back to Mr. Roosevelt's campaign speeches in which he explicitly asserted that it would be impossible for America to pull herself out of the depression without co-operating with other nations. More recent sayings and facts of his distinctly point to a return on his part to the international point of view. From the moment when his cablegram to the World Economic Conference on July 3 was found to have so disturbing an effect, Mr. Roosevelt seems to have felt the need of appealing again to world sentiment. He did this, in effect, when he quickly communicated with the American delegation in London, and authorized it to make the mollifying statement which it proceeded to put out in his name. Since then there has been his cordial dispatch of congratulation to Secretary Hull, who is nothing if not an internationalist. Also to be taken into the reckoning is the President's renewed endeavour to promote foreign trade. He has been putting new energy into the movement to secure reciprocal trade agreements. These he desires not only with South America, where he has been particularly urgent that something be done quickly, but with Denmark and Sweden and Spain, and also with other European nations. This does not look like a policy of isolation or national self-sufficiency. Commerce is the most

There is little likelihood that Marshal Pilsudski will act on the invitation he has received from Moscow to witness the forthcoming Red Army celebrations.

But Colonel Joseph Beck, the Polish Foreign Minister, and the only member of the present Ministry who enjoys Pilsudski's confidence, may go there.

Colonel Beck has been summoned to confer with Pilsudski at the mountain resort at which the Polish dictator is staying near the Rumanian frontier, and it is believed in Warsaw that Poland's relations with the Soviet Union are once again under discussion.

On The Black List

Of the prominent writers who figure in the Nazi proscription list depriving them of their German nationality and property, the best-known in this country is Mr. Lion Feuchtwanger, the author of "Jew Suss."

He, at least, will not be perturbed by an order which merely sets a legal seal on a deprivation which has existed since March.

Although his manuscripts had been torn up, his greatly-prized library seized, and his books put on the Black List in Germany, Mr. Feuchtwanger had not given way to depression. He was busily engaged in writing a new novel.

international thing going." All of its associations are with ideas of cooperation and mutual benefit. It is also apparent from what the President has said and done that he strongly hopes for industrial and financial gains in other parts of the world such as he is striving to secure in his own country. Rising price levels everywhere, with greatly enlarged employment, has plainly regards as good and helpful for Americans as well as for others. Thus it may be inferred that the President does not despair of fitting his national policy into an international frame. Certainly events are indicating that the more any nation tends to cry out, "The world is too much with us," the more it finds that it cannot get along without the world.

THROUGH GERMAN EYES"WAR IS NATIONAL"

ALL GREAT PEOPLES MAKE WAR

(By Eric Stowell.)

It was while waiting for the train at a bleak wayside station on neutral soil that I encountered the German professor.

He spoke no English and I no German, so that the conversational exchanges which followed had to be conducted largely by signs, a little French, a few international words and Latin, and the occasional use of a pencil. But we talked for an hour—of politics, the Jews, the English, and Hitler.

He was anti-Hitler—just like, I suppose, a million other Germans, who detest and distrust the dictator, while committed to exactly that rabid nationalism of which Hitler is the ruling mouthpiece.

At first mention of Hitler the professor glanced about him and dropped his voice. (I had read of this symptom of the Terror: even in the empty silence of the station platform it seemed unaffected.) He repeated the name with guttural indications of disgust, and said, very low:

"He is no goot. At ze moment, all goot, perhaps. Hitler forte—you kenn 'forte'!"—our eyes were fixed on one another as we twinkled and scraped the odd instruments of Babel into some sort of lingual harmony—"ver goot for soldiers, and ze young pipples: no goot for verkers, no good ekonomistes. Ze winter, ha, it will be ze climax."

Will Hitler Last?

"If he hafe"—he tapped his forehead inquiringly. "Brains," I suggested—"ja, Brain"—but here our limited means of expression failed, and he raised his eyebrows and was silent.

I hinted at his lieutenant—Geering for instance.

"Non. Soldiers: not politike. Non. No persone German is politike."

"No statesmen?" He brightened. "Zat is English. Ze English hafe statesmen, yes. They are diplomats." He said it with such envy that I smiled.

"You think so?" He puffed and shrugged, and was emphatic in all directions. "Ja. Diplomats. Always. Beaconsfield!"

So I accepted the laurel. Then it was his turn to question me. How long would Hitler last?

How could I tell? "Wan year, two, five?" he pressed me. I shook my head. Would the people support him?

"Ah, ze pipples—you kenn 'illusioniste'?" Ja? Ze German pipples are much illusioniste." He gesticulated to indicate their unanimity in shouting "Hell!"

"All German pipples beleeve the same. But, can Hitler mayk verke? Der marchants, so, they tink not. They do not love Hitler: de old men, non: they wait. Perhaps! Attendez."

Savage Nationalism

He had become grave, and, beckoning me, he took pencil and paper and wrote: "Expression." Looking me in the eye, to be sure I followed his meaning, he wrote again: "Contra expression." "Expression—contra expression," I nodded; and he nodded significantly and tore up the paper. "Attendez," he repeated and pocketed the pencil.

When we talked of the Jews I began to perceive that the savage quality of that nationalism which has inspired their persecution may well be more widespread than Nazism itself. He had a steely eye and unfriendly smile for my remonstrances.

It was cruel, I told him. "Ja," he assented, politely but without a shadow of regret.

"You hafe also ze Jews in politiks. Der Melchettas and der Readings and much other." I agreed. "And der Simons," he added, but much to his surprise I corrected him. It seemed important that, at this juncture, none of his race should be under any illusions about our Foreign Secretary.

Well, it was the German "psyche." English pipples had a better "mode." They were diplomats. Hitler—he made an if to batter the wall with his head, and we both laughed. "You tink he will not endure?" he inquired again; but this time I entered a caveat. With his pencil I jotted down in rough French:

"The wish is sometimes father to the thought." He was appreciative and approving. "Germans also," he said, and added his version:

"Der Wunsch ist der Vater des Gedankens."

I believed he had understood me.

The War-Makers

Of ze Franche he spoke with some scorn, and of ze Americaine with ill-concealed dislike—the one country itself too nationalistic, the other not nationalistic enough.

"America is many pipples. Germany one pipples. Zat is goot. England one pipples—goot. But Americaine! Ugh, pouf! No, nevafr!"

Obviously, for him, the United States has no tradition, no soul, and no military culture, though they presumed to send an army to Europe; and perhaps he blamed America for the damaged wrist and scarred forearm which he had carried since 1918.

Finally, when we innocently talked literature, I saw the same by-pass jet from the secret fires of nationalist fervour flare again. I mentioned Remarque. What did he—as an old soldier—think of Remarque?

Again a steely smile, and lips shut tight. "Non," he said, quietly, not looking in my eyes. Then out came the arguments all good Germans are drilled to use. "Non. Remarque—he is international. War is not international. War is national: Germans hafe war. English hafe war—many war. It is history; all great pipples make a war; fourteen country mayk war to Germany....."

Nothing Learnt

I lost him in the recapitulation of the Allied Powers; there was much to reflect upon. Had they forgotten nothing? Or learnt anything?

For Germany it had been a private and national horror, which, in the inner furnaces of self-glorification, they are trying now to transmute into a kind of private and peculiarly national honour. I suppose any English schoolboy who has read "Cookhouse at Fellgarth" knows how the forced-draught fury of nationalism works, and is working, in Germany to-day.

A sense of isolation and wounded dignity preys upon their house. That's the spur to self-discipline; and self-discipline and single-mindedness, however blind, promise an ascent to supremacy.

Diplomacy may mistrust the wish which begets a thought, but perhaps an "illusionist" people reads the old saw a little differently—as some bold formula which predicates achievement.

SOVIET NEWSPAPER REGULATION

Old Copy Needed To Purchase New One.

Helsingfors.

A Soviet newspaper has announced to its readers that in future it will only sell copies to those who, in addition to paying threepence, return an old issue at the same time.

The returned copy can be of any newspaper, as it is hoped by those means to meet the shortage of newsprint in Russia.

The Journal that has introduced this system, the "Krasnaya Gazeta," the official organ of the Leningrad Workers and Peasants' Deputies.—Reuter.

AMBER TROPHIES FOR ATHLETES

No More Silver Cups In Germany.

Berlin.

German athletes of the future will not be able to point with pride to a row of silver "pots" on their mantelpieces—trophies of the racing track.

In future amber is to be used as far as possible for making cups for sports prizes in Germany, according to an order by the leader of German Heavy Athletics, Dr. Heyl.

The purpose is to avoid the unnecessary export of currency in the purchase of silver and gold.—Reuter.

FALSE TRADE MARK ON SOAP

Illiteracy Pleaded In Extenuation.

WOMAN ORDERED TO PAY $100 COSTS

Pleading guilty to a charge of possession of soap bearing a forged trade mark of China Soap Company Ltd., a Chinese woman, the proprietor of the Sun Fat Cheung shop at 448 Hennessy Road, Wanchai, was convicted by Mr. Schofield at the Central Magistracy this morning without a fine, but ordered to pay $100 costs.

Mr. J. B. Prentiss prosecuted on behalf of the China Soap Company. He said that the defendant had been warned in a letter from the Company and asked to give all particulars about the soap, but she failed to reply to the letter.

The defendant said that she could neither read nor write and had no friends who would reply to the letter. The soap had been left at her shop by a canvasser who had agreed to be paid when she had sold it. She had not sold any of it up to date.

The Magistrate ordered the soap to be destroyed, and registered a conviction without penalty, in view of the extenuating circumstances.

News In Brief.

"Death from natural causes" was the verdict given in the case of Wong Cheung, 36, a short-term prisoner, who died in the Victoria Gaol hospital yesterday.

ENGLISH PLAYERS ON CONTINENT

Touring Company Visits 25 Countries.

PARIS SEASON FINISHED

Paris. The English Players—Europe's most travelled Band of travelling actors—are off on their travels again after they have presented just one more play here.

On this last tour the company, which is headed by Mr. Edward Stirling, visited 25 countries.

Within two months the company crossed the desert in Palestine, sailed through the Dardanelles and up the Black Sea, turned westwards through Rumania, Austria and Germany to Scandinavia and finally crossed the Baltic Sea behind an icebreaker to Finland, Estonia and Latvia.

The season in Paris has been based on the principle of putting on an English play every fortnight. Following "The Green Bay Tree," "Ten Minute Alibi," and "Wild Justice" comes "The Soul of Nicholas Snyder" by Jerome K. Jerome.

"Eight Bells," the story of mutiny at sea which is now being presented in London, is to conclude the Paris season of the English players, who will be off again on their travels in October visiting Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, the near East, Turkey, Palestine Egypt and Monte Carlo.—Reuter.

ATTEMPT TO CASH PICKED-UP CHEQUE

Loser Informs Bank In Time.

SHOP FOKI SENTENCED

Mak Man-lok, a shop foki, was sentenced to six weeks' hard labour by Mr. Balfour at the Central Magistracy this morning for attempting to cash a cheque for $500 which he had found.

Detective Sergeant McRobbie stated that the complainant Lau Chai-ching, an import and export merchant, sent a foki to cash a cheque for $500. On the way the foki lost the cheque somewhere in the western district and reported his loss, whereupon the complainant immediately informed the bank.

Similar summonses were also brought against Mr. E. C. Hudson, of 464 The Peak, Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyn, of 4 Lyttleton Road, who pleaded guilty and were fined $8 each.

N. CHINA CAMPAIGN SEQUEL.

Generals Fang And Chi Issue Circular.

RETIREMENT ANNOUNCED.

Peking, To-day.

The revolt staged by General Fang Chen-wu and General Chi Hung-chang has been definitely terminated by a circular telegram, jointly issued by the two rebel leaders, announcing their retirement.

The telegram only explains the circumstances in which they were forced to retire and carefully avoids criticism of the Central Government.

The rebel remnants, formerly under their command are concentrating in the surrounding districts of Shunyi pending the Government's order for their disposition.—Central News Agency.

To-day's Short Story.

THE OPEN WINDOW

By Peter Cheyney.

A STORY, M'sieu? Yes, I can tell you a story—

"If you will glance across the lounge and into the smoking room, I think you will see a tall, thin and rather distinguished looking gentleman smoking a cigar. You see him, M'sieu? Good!

"Look well at him, M'sieu, for you are looking at one of the cleverest secret service agents in the world. That is Raoul Fresquoy—or rather that is his name on the hotel register, and our military intelligence know him very well.

"A year before the war I was reception clerk at another hotel in Paris. But my job was not so much to receive guests as to watch them. I can remember when Fresquoy came to stay. We were ordered never to let him out of our sight—to watch every movement—

"He was working for a European Power then, and I was told that he would never be allowed to leave Paris. This time they intended to get him.

"He did leave Paris. Not only did he leave France, but he took with him the plans of our latest submarine engine.

"Here is the story, M'sieu.

On a lovely June night in 1914 Raoul Fresquoy, alias Captain Carol de Wyndhoyst, Etienne Gaules, Merceel Huyt, etc.—for he had many aliases as he spoke languages—crossed the Brande Boulevard Montmartre and hailed a taxi-cab. He drove towards the Luxembourg Gardens, but suddenly stopped the cab, got out, paid his fare and walked quietly after the rather stout figure that he had seen from the cab.

He knew it was Raoul. He would recognise that walk anywhere. In spite of the red beard that Raoul had grown, Fresquoy was certain that it was he.

And what was Raoul doing in Paris? Fresquoy, who was rather nervous, for he was well aware that the French had made up their minds to get him somehow, wondered what the devil Raoul was doing in Paris.

RETURNING FROM BANISHMENT.

Four Chinese Sentenced At Sessions.

LENGTHY GAOL TERMS.

At the Criminal Sessions this morning four Chinese, charged with breaches of the Deportation Ordinance, were sentenced by Mr. J. R. Wood, the Acting Chief Justice, to varying terms of imprisonment. All pleaded guilty.

Chan Sing, alias Ho Ho, banished for ten years on February 2 last, was sentenced to 18 months' hard labour.

Sin Ming, banished for 10 years on July 15 of this year, received one year's hard labour.

Ho Yam-sang, alias Ho Sing, banished for life on May 14, 1929, was given five years' hard labour.

Pang Sau, alias Pang Pat, banished for life on October 23, 1929, was sentenced to five years' hard labour.

PROCURING AND HARBOURING.

Young Girl Taken To Cheung Chau.

TWO WOMEN SENTENCED.

Sentence of one year's hard labour was imposed on a Chinese woman, Wong Koi, at the Central Magistracy this morning for procuring a young Chinese girl, Kwan Tai-mui, for the purpose of prostitution.

Another woman, Lu Mui-kwai, was sentenced to eight months' hard labour for harbouring the same girl at a brothel in Cheung Chau.

Both defendants pleaded guilty. Sub-inspector Elston said that the girl failed to return to her home last Friday. The matter was reported to the police and she was traced to Cheung Chau.

Fresquoy had made up his mind to catch up the man and speak to him when Raoul stopped to buy a newspaper. As he fumbled in his pocket for a coin a piece of paper fell out and lay unobserved on the pavement. Raoul walked on unconsciously of his action.

Fresquoy picked up the piece of paper, opened it and read it, then he whistled to himself in amazement, called a taxicab, got in, told the driver to go to the Concert Mayol, and looked at the piece of newspaper once again.

Of all the luck in the world! It was a letter from Pacasso—who was working for the Italians—and it read:—

Dear Raoul,— Burn this directly you have read it. I have got the plans of the new submarine. They are in my sitting-room at the Cresnoy apartments. My suite is No. 6 on the second floor. The plans—on tracing-paper—very small, are hidden under the imitation fruit stand on the table.

French Military Intelligence is wise to me, so you must get them out. Go up the fire-escape ladder at the back. The fourth french window is my suite. The window will be open. Go in, take the plans and get them to you know where.

TO-MORROW'S STORY

To-morrow's story will be "The Ghost Ship," by Richard Middleton.

Enclosed is a note from me saying that I have gone away and left my cat locked in my rooms and asking you to go and get it and look after it till my return. This is your excuse for being in my rooms if you are surprised. Good luck!

Pacasso. Fresquoy smiled to himself and thought rapidly. Here was the chance of a lifetime. He would take it! He gave fresh orders to the driver, and five minutes later he was hanging about on the side of the road opposite the fire escape steps at the back of the Cresnoy.

Ten minutes later Raoul appeared. Fresquoy saw him approaching, walked towards him, stopped and asked him for a light. Raoul was about to speak when Fresquoy put his fingers to his lips.

"Pretend to be giving me a light," he said. "Listen, if you value your liberty. They are wise to you. They know all about Pacasso's note. You damned fool, you dropped it two hours ago and Intelligence had it twenty minutes afterwards. Don't go near the Cresnoy. If you have that note from Pacasso about letting the cat out, drop it in the gutter and clear off. Don't let them find it on you."

Raoul went as white as death. He was a white-livered specimen.

"Thank you, Fresquoy," he said. "I'll get while the going's good!"

He hurried away and hailed a cab. He got in and Fresquoy saw him throw a piece of paper out of the window. When the cab was out of sight he walked across and picked it up. It was Pacasso's note about the cat.

Fresquoy put it in his pocket, then, quite openly, he walked across to the fire-escape and mounted till he came to Pacasso's window. He pushed it open and stepped through into the suite.

He switched on the electric light. On the centre table stood the imitation fruit stand. Fresquoy moved it. Underneath in an envelope were the tracings.

Fresquoy examined them. They were the real thing—the originals. What luck! There were three countries in Europe which would pay anything for them.

He slipped the envelope into his pocket, returned to the window and looked out.

His heart stood still! For on the other side of the street, under the street lamp, his hands in his pockets, stood Duchette, the French Secret Police.

A little farther down the street Fresquoy could see another figure, and another—The game was up. He was trapped!

PROBLEMS FACING WELSH CLUBS

Ralph's Departure A Blow To Newport.

GOOD PONTYPOOL PACK.

(By WILLIAM ROBERTS).

London, Sept. 2.

There is every promise of an eventful club Rugby season in Wales. Newport alone have cause to feel disturbed. To those who remember when they were the most powerful side in the land, and worthy upholders of the splendid Welsh tradition, their record last season must have been very disappointing.

Their recent trial was notable more for the number of candidates than for any talent revealed. The periods of injury, was their only genius of A. R. Ralph, between comfort last year, and his sudden departure to the north has undoubtedly weakened them considerably.

Their new captain, W. A. Everson, is admittedly one of the most brilliant full-backs now playing, but he is, unfortunately, liable to make bad blunders. He is keen, and will have plenty of eager support, but he will have a hard task in leading a side that throughout last season experienced such difficulty in settling down. One or two of the forwards are good, and Alexander, who came into the team rather late, I like very much. His thrustful offensive play was only slightly marred by a slight positional failure in defence, which experience, without doubt, will overcome. He is the son of a well-known Penarth player, and there should be plenty of football in him.

Swansea's Chief Hope

Swansea's chief hopes—and, incidentally, their chief difficulties—rest with R. R. Morris, their brilliant young stand-off half. After the match against Scotland last year, Morris was under a cloud for a time; undoubtedly his selection for the country was premature, and it was a little unfair to him that he should be called upon to run when he had only lately learnt to walk. But I am convinced that there is no other stand-off half in Wales with the same pace over the important distance, the same rapidity of thought, the same quickness of perception at a moment when an opening means the same thing as a try.

The problem facing Swansea, therefore, will be to find a suitable partner for him at scrum-half and adequate support for him at centre three-quarter. Towards the end of last season Youatt, a member of a well-known Skewen football family, played several games at scrum-half for Swansea, and there are strong rumours that he will be available this year; but there has been no migration of centre three-quarters to the district, and it does not seem likely that the line will rise much above mediocrity.

The forwards, however, are as strong and vigorous as ever, and their work, together with the increased experience of Morris, will probably provide the club with an attack that will be formidable enough against any save the strongest sides.

Pontypool Clear of Debt

Pontypool are opening the new season in the happy knowledge that they are, at last, clear of debt. Their fine playing record is recent years has brought them ever-growing support, and, judging from the talent at their disposal, the present campaign should bring them even greater success.

Cullis, whose splendid understanding with Axford did much to bring the latter into prominence, is expected to return to the stand-off half position, and after two years of nomadic service with various Monmouthshire Valley clubs, his reappearance ought to benefit Pontypool considerably.

Last year their weak link, and judging from the one game that I played for them—the only one—was at stand-off, and it Cullis can bring himself to make a fairly long stay the club seem to be safe for some seasons to come.

Baylis, the international full-back, is likely to continue his experiments with the centre position, and since Pontypool have a competent full-back in Newey, no harm, and conceivably a surprising amount of good, will result.

I should enjoy standing up to the Pontypool forwards less than to about 67,000.

GLEDHILL WINS PACIFIC COAST TENNIS TITLE

Stoeffen Beaten In Five Sets

San Francisco, Oct. 8.
Keith Gledhill, of Santa Barbara, former holder of the national doubles title with Ellisworth Vines, to-day won the tennis singles championship of the Pacific coast by defeating Lester Stoeffen, of Los Angeles, in a hard-fought match 3-6, 4-6, 6-4, 9-7, 6-3.

With George Lott of Chicago, Stoeffen is the current holder of the doubles crown.—Associated Press.

WORLD BOXING CHAMPIONS

American Ranking.

Minneapolis, Sept. 20.

Lou Harvey, the British boxer, is placed ninth in the world's middle-weight ranking list announced at a meeting of the National Boxing.

Kid Berg, now in America ready for another tilt for the light-weight title, has been classed at a welter-weight. In this division he is ranked fourth to Lou Brouillard. Nel Tarleton, of Liverpool, is rated ninth among the feather-weights.

Primo Carnera heads the heavy-weight section, with Max Schmeling, King Levinsky and Jack Sharkey, following in that order.

The champions recognised by the N.B.A. are:

Fly-weight: Jackie Brown (England). Bantam-weight: Al Brown (Panama). Feather - weight: Freddie Miller (America). Kid Chocolate (Cuba) is second. Light-weight: Barney Ross (America). Tony Canzoneri (America), the former champion, is rated third. Middle-weight: Jimmy McLarnin (America). Welter-weight: Lou Brouillard (America). Light-heavy-weight: Maxie Rosenbloom (America). Heavyweight: Primo Carnera (Italy).—Reuter.

A CRICKETER'S CAREER.

Longer In England Than
In Australia.

Australian cricketers do not have as long a career as Englishmen, says Jack Fingleton, the Australian Test player, commenting on the notice given to Percy Holmes that he will not be required next season.

"Twelve months ago, Holmes scored 224 not out, and helped Sutcliffe to make the world record of 655 for the first wicket," he adds.

Fingleton says that if 45 were the retiring age in Australia they would still have Bardsley, Collins, Macartney, Taylor, Andrews, Pelley, Gregory, Kellaway and Ryder on the job.

George Giggings was doing a bit of everything at 44; Ironmonger had his first glimpse of the Test arena a few years ago, being 45, but generally Australians have cried "enough" some years before 45," he concludes.

THE KANGAROOS BEATEN.

Surprised By Bradford
Northern.

London, Oct. 11.

Bradford Northern created a surprise this afternoon by defeating the Kangaroos by 7-5 in a Rugby League match on their own ground.

It was a hard-fought struggle throughout, but the home side lasted better than the Australians.—Reuter.

any other eight men; they need only a little more control of their feet and of the ball when dribbling to make them the finest pack in the long stay the club seem to be safe for some seasons to come.

Baylis, the international full-back, is likely to continue his experiments with the centre position, and since Pontypool have a competent full-back in Newey, no harm, and conceivably a surprising amount of good, will result.

I should enjoy standing up to the Pontypool forwards less than to about 67,000.

"SHAMATEURISM" IN TENNIS BREAKING DOWN OF THE BARRIERS

London.

Already the Hindenburg line of pure amateurism in lawn tennis has been broken through and present indications are that the last defences will soon be swept out of sight.

Wimbledon might be called the Hindenburg line. It gave way this summer to the demands of the big gate attractions when the Australians were paid £200 a head to play in the championships, when the South Africans got £80 each and when finally Mrs. Helen Wills Moody herself, after delaying her entry until the eleventh hour, finally decided to accept Wimbledon's offer to come and defend her title together with the sweetener of a cash payment of £200.

Ghost Writers

A Fleet Street notoriety could name the ghosts who regularly write the tennis articles of some of the stars. Yet in the rules of ghosting is strictly forbidden. What Fleet Street knows the legislators of the L. T. A. are similarly cognisant of, or alternatively, they could discover after a few minutes' sincere inquiry. These old gentlemen, however, prefer to continue in the role depicted by Noel Coward in "Our Ostriches."

Report now has it that Ellisworth Vines and F. J. Perry, following the example of Henri Cochet, are seriously considering going over to the professional ranks. Recreation, said the "Observer" the other day, has no greater peril than its legislators; and nowhere is that truer than in governmental circles of lawn tennis.

The barrier which exists between the professional and the amateur is in the highest class practically one of name only; and governing circles themselves are concerned mainly with gate receipts. It will probably be found that the last Wimbledon spelled receipts in the region of £50,000. At least £15,000 of this will go direct to the Lawn Tennis Association who will benefit also from Davis Cup gate receipts at Auteuil to the tune of about another £10,000.

Declaration Form

The English Lawn Tennis Association, at the last annual general meeting, introduced a bill to make competitors at tournaments sign a declaration accompanying the entry form that they were pure amateurs within the confines of the amateur definition.

The council was aware, it was said, of certain malpractices upon which it was difficult to keep a check.

Then came the earthquake when the American L. T. A. announced blandly to the world her intention of organising an open tournament at which the leading amateur players of the world would be invited to compete with professionals—a forerunner to a world's open championship.

HONG KONG PLAYER TURNS OUT FOR LINCOLN

Barber Shows Promise
At Half Back

EYE INJURY SUSTAINED WHEN
IN COLONY

W. Barber, formerly the Lincoln's centre half, is now with Lincoln City in the Second Division of the English League.

At the beginning of this season he was approached by Luton Town and played trials with the Southern Section Club, but player and club, however, could not come to terms and Barber returned to Lincoln.

His first display at Lincoln was very pleasing, his ball control and accurate ground passing being such as to suggest that he would develop into a very sound half-back.

Born at Lincoln in 1908, Barber learned his football in the Lincoln Schoolboys League where he captained the City and County Boys' teams. Joining the Lincolnshire Regiment at the age of 14 he played football in Ireland, Aldershot, Dover, Gibraltar, Shanghai and Hong Kong.

At the three latter places he played right half in representative matches, and in Shanghai was selected against Hong Kong in the Interport match last year.

Little was seen of Barber in Hong Kong as an eye injury, sustained in the Lincoln v St. Joseph's match in the latter part of last year, not only prevented him from taking part in the Interport against Shanghai, for which he would probably have been selected, but it also kept him out of the Lincoln's First Division side for the remainder of the season.

Rio De Janeiro.—The Brazilian Sports Confederation, already planning for the 1936 Olympic games, has started a series of exhibition football and basketball matches to raise funds for sending the Brazilian delegation. The Brazilian team experienced financial embarrassments in connection with the Los Angeles Olympics, and the confederation is preparing in plenty of time for 1936.—Associated Press.

LINCOLNS FORCE RADIO TO A DRAW

Second Half Recovery Against Champion.

HOLLINGSWORTH SAVES SIDE FROM DEFEAT

In a fast and evenly contested game at Shumshupoo yesterday afternoon, the Lincolns did very well to hold the Radio Sports Club, champions of the Mamak Hockey Tournament, to a draw, both sides scoring once.

Prem Singh was replaced at left wing by K. Singh, while two changes were made in the Lincolns team. Lt. Rousier's place at right was taken by Wilson, and Lt. Hollingsworth was injured against the Radio Sports Club in the game on Saturday, was replaced on the left wing by Harrison.

The game started early, through Arthur Singh. They continued to attack throughout the first half, but were unable to score again. Hollingsworth in goal for the home team was outstanding.

In the second half the Army scored a good recovery, and Tommy Hollingsworth with a nice shot from the left wing. Although the Indians made determined raids in the closing stages they were unable to score the winning goal.

Both Man Singh, P. Singh, and J. S. Grewal, Jagjit Singh, M. H. Hussain, J. M. Singh, K. Singh, G. Singh, A. Singh, K. Singh, and P. A. K. Singh (Captain) for the Lincolns. Hollingsworth, Harrison, and Wilson, Yoonas, Harper, and Lt. Col. Taylor, Merrill, Gutteridge, and Wilson and Harrison.

"Y" LADIES BEAT ST. ANDREW'S

Miss O. Brown Scores Deciding Goal.

Playing in their first match of the season, the "Y" Ladies' hockey team defeated the St. Andrew's Ladies by a single goal on the Marina ground yesterday afternoon.

Two new players in the Misses J. Wilson and B. Helling were seen in action for the "Y" Ladies, while the St. Andrew's Ladies were without the assistance of their former goalkeeper, Miss Rose. Her position was taken by Miss C. White, who would have been seen to better advantage in her usual position at back. Other players were the Misses L. Rogers, P. Woolley, and I. Woolley.

Play on the whole was very even, although the "Y" held a slight advantage throughout. Miss S. Dalziel, captain of the "Y," and Miss Helling were the outstanding players on the field, while Miss O. Dalziel and Miss O. Brown were also prominent for their side. Miss Margaret Woolley worked hard for the Saints.

In the second half Miss O. Brown, after a fine solo effort, scored from the left wing.

"Y" Ladies—Miss J. Weller, Mrs. Portation, Miss A. Fowler, Miss B. Blumchen, Miss S. Dalziel, Miss B. Helling, Miss O. Dalziel, Miss J. Wilson, Miss P. McCall, Miss J. Wilson, Miss O. Brown, Miss S. Dalziel, Mrs. A. Henson, Miss E. Chubb, Mrs. M. Vossana, Miss M. Churn, Miss E. Miss M. Woolley, Miss J. Wong, and Landolt, Miss F. Wong, Miss I. Gittins, Miss P. Gittins.

ARMY FINAL AT SOOKUNPOO

Pte. J. Ronan (Borderers) won the Army (Other Ranks) Lawn Tennis Singles Championship yesterday at Sookunpoo when he beat Sgt. C. Halford, formerly of the Borderers, by 6-1, 6-3 in very convincing manner.

Halford gave a very listless exhibition refusing to run for any reason out of his reach. Capt. P. S. Cannon, the well-known U. S. R. C. player, umpired the match and later distributed the prizes.

LINCOLNS SOCCER TEAM MAY VISIT CANTON

Game Against Chinese Military University.

FIXTURE WITH ATHLETIC ON PROPOSED DATE

Provisional arrangements have been made for the Lincolns premier league soccer eleven to visit Canton on Sunday November 5 to play the Chinese Military University.

The Lincolns have a fixture against the Chinese Athletic on the Club ground on this date and unless the permission of the F. A. is secured the leading military side will be forced to concede both points when in a very favourable position in the League table.

Though the team is not yet known, it is not expected to differ very much from that which is doing so well at the moment in the premier division of the local league.

The team will probably be Heath, Turner, Roden, Dudley, Cork, Bott, Batory, McGinness, Higgins, Ridley and Hoggard.

ARMY CRICKET TEAM

The following have been selected to represent the Army against the Civil Service Cricket Club at 2 p.m. at Sookunpoo on Saturday, October 21, 1933.

South China Soccer Eleven Beaten.

GOAL IN FIRST MINUTE DECIDES GAME

Nanking, To-day.

The Shanghai football eleven caused a surprise yesterday afternoon when they eliminated Hong Kong, represented by the South China team, by a goal in the first minute of the match.

Before the game was a minute old Shanghai were awarded a free kick and Feng Yun-yu placed the ball beautifully for Li Yeh-shen to head the ball past Lim Thin Chan for the only score of the game. Hong Kong were on the attack throughout the game, and only spectacular play by the Shanghai goalkeeper, Chow Hsien-yen, and the full-backs, saved the day for Shanghai, whose forwards were very slow.

In the other semi-final game Canton, who have Ip Pak Wa, Fung King Cheong, Tam Kong Pak, and "Darkie" Chen, defeated Hoped by 4 goals to 1. Canton and Shanghai will meet for the title to-morrow.—Reuter.

KHOO BEATEN IN STRAIGHT SETS BY HSU.

Nanking, To-day.

The 20-year old Hsu Cheng-chi (Batavia) was crowned as China's new tennis champion yesterday when he sensationally beat Shanghai's No. 1 ranking singles player, Khoo Hoo-hye, by 6-3, 6-2, 6-0.

Shanghai eliminated Hong Kong in the volley-ball competition by 3 to 1, while Canton defeated Chekiang 3 to 0. Canton will meet Shanghai for the championship this afternoon.

In the baseball contest Hoped eliminated Hong Kong by 4 to 3 to qualify to meet Canton in the Final to-morrow.

In the girls' indoor baseball Canton beat Nanking by 14 to 6. They will meet Shanghai in the Final to-day.—Reuter.

NAVY BEAT ARMY AT RUGBY

Experimental Game At Sookunpoo.

SOCCER PLAYERS CONVERTED TO HANDLING CODE

(BY SCRUM HALF.)

A scratch Navy Rugby fifteen, comprised of thirteen players from H.M.S. Berwick, beat an Army team which included the nucleus of the Royal Artillery fifteen, by a goal and four tries (17 points) to nil in a friendly game at Sookunpoo yesterday.

Due to the fact that many soccer players, who are being converted to the handling code, were playing the game was a very scrappy one with the Navy the superior side.

The Artillery, who are entering a side this year under the leadership of Lt. Hebert and Lt. Birt, have players who are very keen and fast on the ball but who are as yet very ignorant of the rules. Once they become accustomed to their new game the Artillery should be able to field a good enough pack to extend the Club "A" with whom fixtures are being arranged.

I understand that a series of games are being arranged between a weak Berwick side and the Artillery in the near future.

Stoker Curries scored three of the Navy's five tries yesterday when he displayed a useful turn of speed on the wing and a safe pair of hands.

The Navy side was: Pay-Mid Roanree; L. S. A. Richards, Lt. Jamison, L. S. Williams, Sto. Curries; A. B. Mudford, Mid Kueker; Surg.-Lt. Comdr. Corbett, Lt. Brown R.M., Lt. Dryer, Mid Lemmott, L. S. Masters, L. S. Grownan, L. S. Gumbleton, and S. R. A. Ellsworth.

AITKENHEAD SHIELD

Twelve Rinks At Valley On October 28.

SELECTION COMMITTEES NOMINATED

It has been decided that the Aitkenhead Lawn Bowls Shield contest shall be played at the Valley on the greens of the Craigengower C.C. the Police R.C. and the Civil Service C.C. on Saturday October 28, at 2.30 p.m., and that each side will provide twelve rinks.

The Taiiko R.C., the Craigengower C.C., the Police R.C. and the Civil Service C.C. are each to provide eight players, the Hong Kong Electric and the Yacht Club six each, and the Indian R.C. four; while each of the four Kowloon Clubs is to submit the names of twelve players.

After each club has submitted names to the Hon. Secretary of the L.B.A. a sub-committee will select the various rinks. Messrs. J. Russell, U. M. Omar, A. W. Grimmer, and L. de Rome were appointed the selection committee for Hong Kong, and Messrs. H. Hampton, R. P. Phillips, B. Wylie, and J. Kempton for Kowloon.

The prizes won in the Association's tournaments during the past year will be presented at the Police R.C. after the match, by Mrs. J. Russell.

SPEY ROYAL CUP TEAMS

On Saturday the Spey Royal Cup final will be decided on the Civil Service green, commencing at 2.45 p.m. The following are the teams:

Craigengower Kowloon Dock. G. L. Buchanan J. V. Ramsey B. W. Bradbury W. Greig H. Beer J. C. Brown U. M. Omar R. Lapeley (skip) (skip)

Charles Richards, the Shanghai player, will skip a rink against the Craigengower four in a practice game this afternoon.

N. Vargassoff, the University's star field athlete, is now back in the Colony from Shanghai. He arrived on Friday by the Kashima Maru.

The Empress Wins Trevesa Trophy Race

First C.P.S. Triumph In History Of The Event.

ONLY TWO BOATS FINISH

For the first time in the history of the Trevesa Trophy the Canadian Pacific recorded a triumph yesterday when the Empress of Asia crew secured an easy win over the Taiyuan (Butterfields).

The competition, which is open to merchant ships' life-boats, was inaugurated in 1924 in recognition of the meritorious conduct of the Officers and Crew of the s.s. Trevesa when two boats survived the wreck after covering 1,747 miles.

In beautiful weather a very good start was made the C. P. R. boat getting away early and at the end of the first mile had established a lead of over 100 yards. At this stage the two boats from the s.s. Hinsang were engaged in a thrilling struggle for second place, while just behind were the Kaying and the Taiyuan. The Kwangchow was in the last position.

Rounding Kowloon Rock the Empress vessel was still leading the field and the order of the remainder was the same with the exception of the Taiyuan who had moved into fourth place.

One of the Hinsang's boats was disqualified for rowing six oars, but she sailed on and actually crossed the line second at the finish of the race.

When the turn was made near the yacht Club the order of the boats was Empress of Asia, Hinsang, Taiyuan, the Kwangchow having withdrawn and the Kaying being disqualified for fouling a marking buoy.

Empress Win Assured

In the last stretch the Empress was assured of victory, but a great struggle was witnessed between the Hinsang and the Taiyuan for second place, the crew of the Taiyuan, under Mr. Hindle, pulling beautifully. The Hinsang was unfortunately disqualified at the end for passing on the wrong side of the marking buoy, thus making only two to finish the course—

1. Empress of Asia (C.P.S.) Mr. Morrell 53 mins. 20 secs.
2. Taiyuan (Butterfields) Mr. Hindle Kwangchow (Jardines) Mr. Mitchell did not finish.
Hinsang (Jardines) Mr. Baillie disqualified.
Hinsang (Jardines) Mr. Lane disqualified.
Kaying (Butterfields) Mr. Winterton disqualified.

At the conclusion of the race Commodore Elliot complimented Mr. Morrison on his win. Considering his heavy boat and heavy oars, his seamanship was good and his allowance for tide was well carried out.

"In presenting this trophy the Hong Kong Yacht Club," he said, "formed a link between the Colony and the merchant ships which visit it." Commodore Elliot also referred to the Hong Kong Naval Reserve which he said had now almost been formed, and that the Yacht Club were offering their club as a temporary headquarters.

The Same Crew

He then presented the trophy to Captain Lovegrove the master of the s.s. Empress of Asia who said that his boat had tried three times, to win the trophy, and at last success had come their way. It had been won, he said, by the same crew and the same coxswain who took part in the race eighteen months ago.

The race was watched by Commodore Elliot, Royal Navy, Mr. A. L. Shields, Commodore of the Royal Hong Kong Yacht Club, Mr. H. S. Rouse, Vice-Commodore, Mr. R. Vennall and Mr. I. Deville, joint secretaries Captain D. Skinner, of Jardine, Matheson, Captain A. R. McEachran, China Navigation Company, Mrs. Skinner, Mrs. McEachran.

NINE RECREIO MEN TRIUMPH

Silva Scores Lone Goal Against Engineers.

Playing with nine men the Club de Recreio beat the Royal Engineers by a goal scored by P. M. N. da Silva in the opening half at Sookunpoo yesterday.

Much faster than their opponents the Recreio fully deserved their success. Silva and J. Gonçalves being conspicuous.

RENE LACOSTE (above), non-playing captain of the French Davis Cup team this year, forecasts that Andre Merlin will be the spear head of the French challenge for the Bowl for many years to come. "He is Cochet's successor," said the former world champion.

Kwok Wins 200 Metres Heat In Excellent Time

HONG KONG did extraordinarily well in the Women's 50 Metres Free Style Swimming Final at the Chinese National Athletic Meeting in Nanking yesterday when Miss Yeung Sau King, the Colony champion, won the event and two other local representatives were placed. Canton secured the third place.

A surprise was caused in the 50 Metres Men's event when Leung Shui Man was eclipsed by Canton and Shanghai stars. Leung Wai Sang secured third place for the Colony.

Kwok Chun-hang won his heat in the 200 Metres in the excellent time of 3 mins. 7.4 secs. and is a hot favourite for the Final.

Results were as follows: 200 Metres Free Style.

1st Heat

1. Tung Keng-sun (Hoped)

2. Wong Siu Man (Hong Kong)

3. Yang Hang-wah (Canton)

Time: 3 mins. 12.8 secs.

South China Soccer Eleven Beaten.

GOAL IN FIRST MINUTE DECIDES GAME

Nanking, To-day.

The Shanghai football eleven caused a surprise yesterday afternoon when they eliminated Hong Kong, represented by the South China team, by a goal to nil in the soccer tournament at the Chinese National Athletic Meeting.

Before the game was a minute and Shanghai were awarded a free kick and Feng Yun-yu placed the ball beautifully for Li Yieh-chen to head the ball past Lim Thin Chan for the only score of the game. Hong Kong were on the attack throughout the game, and only spectacular play by the Shanghai goalkeeper, Chow Hien-yen, and the full-backs, saved the day for Shanghai, whose forwards were very slow.

In the other semi-final game Canton, who have Ip Pak Wa, Fung King Cheong, Tam Kong Pak, and "Darkie" Chen, defeated Hoped by 4 goals to 1. Canton and Shanghai will meet for the title to-morrow.—Reuter.

New Lawn Tennis Champion.

KHOO BEATEN IN STRAIGHT SETS BY HSU.

Nanking, To-day.

The 20-year old Hsu Cheng-chi (Batavia) was crowned as China's new tennis champion yesterday when he sensationally beat Shanghai's No. 1 ranking singles player, Khoo Hoo-hye, by 6-3, 6-2, 6-0.

Shanghai eliminated Hong Kong in the volleyball competition by 3 to 1, while Canton defeated Chekiang 3 to 0. Canton will meet Shanghai for the championship this afternoon.

In the baseball contest Hoped eliminated Hong Kong by 4 to 3 to qualify to meet Canton in the Final to-morrow.

In the girls' indoor baseball Canton beat Nanking by 14 to 6. They will meet Shanghai in the Final to-day.—Reuter.

TO-MORROW

NAVY BEAT ARMY AT RUGBY

Experimental Game At Sookunpoo.

SOCCER PLAYERS CONVERTED TO HANDLING CODE

(By SCRUM HALF.)

A scratch Navy Rugby fifteen, comprised of thirteen players from H.M.S. Berwick, beat an Army team which included the nucleus of the Royal Artillery fifteen, by a goal and four tries (17 points) to nil in a friendly game at Sookunpoo yesterday.

Due to the fact that many soccer players, who are being converted to the handling code, were playing the game was a very scrappy one with the Navy the superior side.

The Artillery, who are entering a side this year under the leadership of Lt. Hebert and Lt. Birt, have players who are very keen and fast on the ball but who are as yet very ignorant of the rules. Once they become accustomed to their new game the Artillery should be able to field a good enough pack to extend the Club "A" with whom fixtures are being arranged.

I understand that a series of games are being arranged between a weak Berwick side and the Artillery in the near future.

Stoker Curtis scored three of the Navy's five tries yesterday when he displayed a useful turn of speed on the wing and a safe pair of hands.

The Navy side was: Pay-Mid Boatree; L. S. A. Richards, Lt. Jamison, L. S. Williams, Stoker Curtis; A. B. Mufford, Mid Kucker; Surg.-Lt. Comdr. Corbett, Lt. Brown R.M., Lt. Dryer, Mid Lamotte, L. S. Masters, L. S. Crowman, L. S. Gumbleton, and S. R. A. Ellsworth.

AITKENHEAD SHIELD

Twelve Rinks At Valley On October 28.

SELECTION COMMITTEES NOMINATED

It has been decided that the Aitkenhead Lawn Bowls Shield contest shall be played at the Valley on the greens of the Craigengower C.C., the Police R.C. and the Civil Service C.C. on Saturday October 28, at 2.30 p.m., and that each side will provide twelve rinks.

The Taiiko R.C., the Craigengower C.C., the Police R.C. and the Civil Service C.C. are each to provide eight players, the Hong Kong Electric and the Yacht Club six each, and the Indian R.C. four; while each of the four Kowloon Clubs is to submit the names of twelve players.

After each club has submitted names to the Hon. Secretary of the L.B.A. a sub-committee will select the various rinks. Messrs. J. Russell, U. M. Omar, A. W. Grimmit and L. de Rome were appointed the selection committee for Hong Kong, and Messrs. H. Hampton, R. P. Phillips, B. Wylie, and J. Kempton for Kowloon.

The prizes won in the Association's tournaments during the past year will be presented at the Police R.C. after the match, by Mrs. J. Russell.

SPY ROYAL CUP TEAMS

On Saturday the Spy Royal Cup final will be decided on the Civil Service green, commencing at 2.45 p.m. The following are the teams:

Craigengower Kowloon Dock: G. L. Buchanan J.V. Ramsey B.W. Bradbury W. Greig H. Beer J. C. Brown U. M. Omar R. Lapeley (skip) (skip)

Charles Richards, the Shanghai player, will skip a rink against the Craigengower four in a practice game this afternoon.

N. Vargassoff, the University's star field athlete, is now back in the Colony from Shanghai. He arrived on Friday by the Kashima Maru.

The Empress Wins Trevesa Trophy Race

First C.P.S. Triumph In History Of The Event.

ONLY TWO BOATS FINISH

For the first time in the history of the Trevesa Trophy the Canadian Pacific recorded a triumph yesterday when the Empress of Asia crew secured an easy win over the Taiyuan (Butterfields).

The competition, which is open to merchant ships' life-boats, was inaugurated in 1924 in recognition of the meritorious conduct of the Officers and Crew of the s.s. Trevesa when two boats survived the wreck after covering 1,747 miles.

In beautiful weather a very good start was made the C. P. R. boat getting away early and at the end of the first mile had established a lead of over 100 yards. At this stage the two boats from the s.s. Hinsang were engaged in a thrilling struggle for second place, while just behind were the Kaying and the Taiyuan. The Kwangchow was in the last position.

Rounding Kowloon Rock the Empress vessel was still leading the field and the order of the remainder was the same with the exception of the Taiyuan who had moved into fourth place.

One of the Hinsang's boats was disqualified for rowing six oars, but she sailed on and actually crossed the line second at the finish of the race.

When the turn was made near the yacht Club the order of the boats was Empress of Asia, Hinsang, Taiyuan, the Kwangchow having withdrawn and the Kaling being disqualified for fouling a marking buoy.

Empress Win Assured

In the last stretch the Empress was assured of victory, but a great struggle was witnessed between the Hinsang and the Taiyuan for second place, the crew of the Taiyuan, under Mr. Hindle, pulling beautifully. The Hinsang was unfortunately disqualified at the end for passing on the wrong side of the marking buoy, thus making only two to finish the course:—

1. Empress of Asia (C.P.S.) Mr. Moriel 53 mins. 20 secs.
2. Taiyuan (Butterfields) Mr. Hindle Kwangchow (Jardines) Mr. Mitchell did not finish.
Hinsang (Jardines) Mr. Baile disqualified.
Hinsang (Jardines) Mr. Lane disqualified.
Kaying (Butterfields) Mr. Wauferbottom disqualified.

At the conclusion of the race Commodore Elliot complimented Mr. Morrison on his win. Considering his heavy boat and heavy oars, his seamanship was good and his allowance for tide was well carried out.

"In presenting this trophy the Hong Kong Yacht Club," he said, "formed a link between the Colony and the merchant ships which visit it." Commodore Elliot also referred to the Hong Kong Naval Reserve which he said had now almost been formed, and that the Yacht Club were offering their club as a temporary headquarters.

The Same Crew

He then presented the trophy to Captain Lovegrove the master of the s.s. Empress of Asia who said that his boat had tried three times to win the trophy, and at last success had come their way. It had been won, he said, by the same crew and the same coxswain who took part in the race eighteen months ago.

The race was watched by Commodore Elliott, Royal Navy, Mr. A. L. Shields, Commodore of the Royal Hong Kong Yacht Club, Mr. H. S. House, Vice-Commodore, Mr. R. Vernal and Mr. I. Deville, joint secretaries Captain D. Skinner, of Jardine, Matheson, Captain A. R. McEachran, China Navigation Company, Mrs. Skinner, Mrs. McEach-

London, Sept. 30.
The Duke of York's Handicap run at Kempton Park this afternoon over a distance of one mile, resulted as follows:—

LIMELIGHT 1
SHREWTON 2
CELADON 3

Sixteen ran. Won by one and half lengths; the same. Betting: 4-1 against Limelight; 33-1 against Shrewton; 5-1 against Celadon.—Reuter.

Warren Bardsley, the famous Australian batsman, has decided to retire after thirty-four years of cricket which will live long in the memory. Most of his 12,110 runs were scored in Test and Inter-State matches, yet he has the remarkable average of 50.45. He is one of the few batsmen who have scored a century in each innings of a Test match, made 50 centuries in first-class cricket, and played for Australia against England thirty times.

He crossed to the light and switched it off. He could see the whole thing now. Pacasso had turned traitor and sold Roquant to the French. Pacasso had stolen the plans, been accused of the theft and had given away his confederate to purchase his own liberty. Pacasso had intended Roquant to be caught with the plans on him, instead of which he (Fresquoy) had walked into the trap laid for Roquant.

The whole place was surrounded. He had no doubt of that—and now Duchette would laugh. What a catch to get Fresquoy, the Fresquoy, instead of that poor fish Roquant! Fresquoy was as cool as ice. He found the front door of the flat, opened it quietly and looked out into the corridor. It was empty. He walked down to the end and looked over the balustrade. He could see no one.

But he saw something else—something that gave him an idea—there was a chance—just a thousand to one chance.

He returned quickly to the suite. Sat down at the writing table and wrote a note. He sealed it, went back again to the corridor after a careful look round the door, slipped out and was back again in a few seconds.

Then he found the cat. It was asleep in the bedroom. He picked it up, put it under his arm, and whispering a tune crossed the room, slipped out of the window, walked down the fire escape and almost collided with Duchette, who, accompanied by four men, was waiting at the bottom.

Duchette grinned. "Why—if it isn't Fresquoy!" he said with a smirk. "Here's a catch!" He became official. "Raoul Fresquoy," he said, "I am an officer of the French Secret Police, and I arrest you in the name of the Republic for stealing a set of plans from the Marine Department."

Fresquoy grinned. "Don't be a damned fool Duchette," he said. "I know all about your little plot with Pacasso. Roquant told me. Pacasso has sold you twice! I came here because I am a lover of animals and because I knew that Pacasso's cat was locked up in the suite and would have starved to death. Also, I warn you that I am a Greek citizen (he was), he had seventeen different sets of nationalisation papers in his room! And I know nothing about your stolen plans. I demand to be searched immediately, and I demand to see the Greek Consul at once.

"This is a frame-up. You are desirous of arresting me because you suspect that I am a secret agent. I am not. I demand my immediate release!"

He was a picture of indignation—quite superb. Even Duchette was taken aback. They took Fresquoy along to headquarters and searched him. There was nothing on him except Pacasso's note about the cat. Five hours afterwards they had to release him. It nearly broke Duchette's heart. Fresquoy crossed the frontier as soon as he could get a train and went to Bruges. Four days later he sat down and wrote a note to Duchette. And this is what he wrote:—

My Dear, dear Duchette.— Aren't you a fool? Really you are, my dear fellow. Whilst I was in Pacasso's rooms, and you and your men were waiting outside, I left the suite and took a look at the corridor outside; and what do you think I found at the end, my dear Duchette? I found a post-box—a post-box, my dear Duchette!

I went back to the suite; took the plans, slipped them into an envelope and addressed it to myself at this hotel in Bruges. The envelope arrived yesterday evening, complete with the plans, dear Duchette.

By the way, you might tell Pacasso—if you see him—that I gave his cat to an old lady on the Boulevard des Italiens. It seemed appropriate.

Au revoir, dear Duchette. Raoul Fresquoy.

* "A story, is it not, M'sieu? Look! Here he comes—that is Fresquoy! What a man, M'sieu—what a man!"

STREETS DARKENED BY BUTTERFLIES

Strange Phenomenon in Bosnia

Belgrade. Swarms of yellow butterflies were blown into the Bosnian town of Banja Luka on a stiff breeze and formed a cloud so thick about the lamp-posts that the streets were darkened as by a London fog.

The inhabitants had to shelter from the plague of butterflies in their houses. Next morning the street sweepers swept the dead insects into great piles at the roadside and carted them away in lorries.—Reuter.

"HALLELUJAH, I'M A TRAMP."—KING'S THEATRE.

Al Jolson makes a welcome return to the screen in the United Artists' picture "Hallelujah, I'm a Tramp," the current attraction at the King's Theatre.

Al Jolson's powerful and melodious voice is well known to moviegoers and the story of "Hallelujah, I'm a Tramp," suits the happy-go-lucky attitude which he adopts in all his pictures. The story, although a comedy, has a pathetic and poignant background.

Al Jolson is cast as a singing tramp who wanders happily through life, bringing good cheer to his comrades in distress.

The supporting cast includes Madge Evans, Frank Morgan, Harry Langdon and Chester Conklin.

"PICK UP"—QUEEN'S THEATRE.

A couple of youngsters who meet without benefit of introduction is the story of Vina Delmar's "Pick Up," which is now showing at the Queen's Theatre.

Sylvia Sydney is the girl and George Raft the boy.

Sylvia, released from prison, to which she has been sent when her husband, a criminal, "frames" her, is destitute in the city. Cold and hungry, she takes shelter in a taxi of which Raft is the driver. He orders her out, but when he is convinced of the genuineness of her story he helps her.

Meanwhile her husband, in an attempt to escape from jail, is killed, and the film reaches a breathless climax when Sylvia attempts to save the life of the man she now loves.

"THE PENGUIN POOL MURDER"—CENTRAL THEATRE

"The Penguin Pool Murder," a powerful mystery drama concerning a murder which takes place in an Aquarium, is the current attraction at the Central Theatre.

Edna May Oliver gives a very fine performance as a country school-teacher who outwits the entire detective force of New York in solving the crime.

The cast includes such famous players as James Gleason, Robert Armstrong, Donald Cook and Mae Clark, who give splendid support in this combination of hilarious comedy and intriguing mystery.

"DANGEROUSLY YOURS"—ORIENTAL THEATRE.

"Dangerously Yours," now showing at the Oriental Theatre, is a fast-moving comedy drama in which a charming lady detective sets out to use her feminine wiles to ensnare a suave gentleman crook, a renowned jewel thief.

Warner Baxter has the role of a society thief and the beautiful Miriam Jordan plays the part of girl sleuth.

Herbert Mundin, contributes the greatly to the hilarity of the picture.

"INFERNAL MACHINE"—STAR THEATRE

A group of notables frightened to death by the news that a time bomb has been placed in the ship they are in, form the central figures in the exciting Fox dramatic comedy "Infernal Machine," now showing at the Star's Theatre.

In this group springs a young adventurer, Chester Morris, who has hidden himself in a lifeboat for two days in order to be near the girl of his heart (Genevieve Tobin). He is a promptly suspected of villainous intentions and some exciting scenes ensue, not unmingled with amusing situations.

THE TIGER MEDICAL HALL

Head Office in Singapore

Do you ever suffer from Head-ache, Cough, Cold, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gout, Sore-throat, Toothache, or Asthma? If you do, will you allow us to solve the question of securing a cure, of course, a permanent one, and put an end to these dreadful enemies of humanity? Or do you like to be handicapped in society, in business or in your daily association with your strong, stout friends? For your own good, we would strongly advise you to have an open mind, and to make use of what you can call your true companion, instead of waiting for the time when you are attacked by disease, the youngest daughter of Mr. Fortune, Miss Fortune. When you are living and enjoying the gifts of nature, this unseen thief creeps into your system, and runs you physically and mentally. Our preparation THE TIGER BALM, which has nothing to do with animal fat, or any injurious substance, will safeguard your interest. When you are in trouble, just pay a few copper coins, and the next moment you will find that this world of sorrow and pain is suddenly changed to one of peace and prosperity.

FAMILY QUARREL STABBING CASE.

Charge Against Younger Brother Withdrawn.

The remand charge against Tam
So of aiding and abetting the stabbing of his elder brother Tam Chor, a Chinese boatman, on Oct. 8, was withdrawn at the Central Magistracy this morning.

Sub-Inspector O'Donovan stated that he had no more evidence to bring forward, as the whole thing was a family quarrel, which arose
over the sale of a sampan.

He added that Ng Yeung-ho, who escaped after stabbing his uncle,
Tam Chor, was still at large.

RETURNED BANISHEE ON SECOND CHARGE

Found In Possession Of Firearms

He Yam-sang, who was this morning sentenced by the Acting Chief Justice, Mr. J. R. Wood, to five years' hard labour for returning from banishment, was afterwards charged before the Police Judge, Mr. R. E. Lindsell, with being in possession of a revolver and 60 rounds of ammunition at Sha-tin, on September 29 last.

Pleading guilty, he was sentenced to a further term of three years' hard labour.

CANTON FORESEES PACIFIC CRISIS

Kwangtung "Incidents" Cause Concern.

JAPANESE MARINES LANDED.

Canton, To-day.
The serious view taken by the Canton Administration of the recent kidnapping of a Korean in the eastern suburb of Canton and the landing of a party of marines in the Waiyang District, eastern Kwangtung, from a Japanese gun-boat, is further revealed by statements made by high Canton
officials.

The above-mentioned cases together with national defence problems in south-western China, were exhaustively discussed at yesterday's meeting of the South-West
Political Council, which Mr.
Eugene Chen attended, declared an official.

He also said that definite decisions had been reached on these problems yesterday. In considering the diplomatic and national defence problems, the South-West
Political Council envisages the possibility of a crisis in the Pacific.
Central News Agency.

Two women, Wong Kiu and Lu
Mui-kwai, were yesterday remanded by Mr. Schofield at the Central Magistracy on charges respectively of procuring and harbouring a girl
of 12 years of age.

JAPANESE ENVOY'S VISIT TO CHINA.

May Call At Nanking And Canton.

Shanghai, To-day.
Mr. Sugimura, a travelling Japanese diplomat, arrived here yesterday.
In an interview with pressmen, he denied that any specific mission was attached to his present trip to China.

He said he was, however, prepared to proceed to Nanking to call on the Nanking leaders and would subsequently proceed to Nanchang to visit Marshal Chiang Kai-shek. He also intimated that he might visit Canton.—Central News Agency.

40 DOCKERS "HURT" IN TWO HOURS.

Malaga Malingers Exposed.

Malaga.
Within two hours 40 dock-
hands went to their employers
here, reporting minor injuries.

Suspensions were aroused, and it was found that the men had been inflicting slight cuts and grazes on themselves, because they found it too hot to work,
and wanted to "knock off" without forfeiting any pay.

Inspectors have been sent to the docks, and in future
malingers will be fined.—Reuter.
